GOOD HERRING RECEIPTS.

Four Frozen Fares and One Salt Fare Arrive this Morning.

Herring from Newfoundland are in quite liberal receipt this morning there being four full fares of the frozen herring and one fare of salt herring all from Bay of Islands.

Frozen herring are selling at $3.50 per hundred weight at New York and are moving very slowly. The three vessels there took on 22,000 pounds on Wednesday and 20,000 pounds yesterday up to noon.

Sch. Robin Hood is bound home from Bay of Islands with a cargo of frozen herring, and sch. Tattler is bound home with a partial load.

Jan. 16. WEEKLY FISH MARKET.

Trade has picked up this week, but no changes in prices are noted. The codfish market is very firm while mackerel are correspondingly weak, but as there is practically nothing doing in this branch and no prices are being made. Last sales are quoted.

The feature of the week is the good receipts of salt and frozen herring. It is a little early for the smoked bloater trade as yet but even now the demand is fair and as good as ever it was at this time of the season, and there is every indication that every herring of the rather short supply will be needed to fill the demand.

The frozen herring market is well supplied, vessels now taking out at Philadelphia, New York, Boston and here. Several fares have sold to Boston the price reported as $2.50. New York and Philadelphia are quoting $3.50 and Boston and Gloucester about $3 to the trade.

Two good fares of cured fish have been received from down East and both are needed. All kinds of ground fish still continue in very light receipt.

The receipts at this port for the week ending Jan. 16 are 43,000 lbs. salt cod.

11,000 lbs. fresh cod.
33,000 lbs. halibut.
40,000 lbs. haddock.
7310 bbls. frozen herring.
5223 bbls. salt herring.
150 bbls. pickled herring.
1988 qtls. cured fish.
1000 bbls. salt alewives (to be reshipped.)

Last weeks receipts were 68,000 lbs. salt cod, 65,000 lbs. fresh cod, 1000 lbs. halibut, 101,000 lbs. haddock, 2000 lbs. hake, 3530 bbls. frozen herring, 160 bbls. salt herring.

The little sch. Arrow is at this port from Boothbay with 180 barrels of frozen herring.

Sch. Bohemia has secured a full cargo of frozen herring at Bay of Islands.

Capt. Wadding and crew of the damaged vessel Atalanta left Bay of Islands Monday for home.

The Bay of Islands, N. F., Western Star says:

"The herring fishery in the outer Arms of Bay of Islands ended on Saturday, when all the fishermen left for their homes, and all the vessels moved out to good anchorage ready to sail with first favorable wind. Thirteen vessels were anchored at Woods Island on Saturday, all well laden with frozen herring.

"The last couple of weeks helped to bring up the earnings of the fishermen to well within the average of other years. But the loss of gear and boats has been heavy this season, so that the actual profits of the voyage will not be so large as other years. To Mr. Alexander Hines of Pleasant Cove belongs the honor of having caught the biggest fare of the season. "It is estimated that quite sixty thousand barrels of herring have been taken from Bay of Islands this season; not less than $75,000 have been distributed among the several hundred fishermen who engaged in the industry. The fleet for salt bulk herring was the smallest for years; otherwise, the year would have been the most successful ever known in Bay of Islands. The fleet for frozen herring was large, there being quite 20 vessels from Gloucester alone."

BURNED TO WATER'S EDGE.

Wreck of Steamer Alice M. Jacobs Took Fire.

A dispatch from Halifax, N. S., yesterday states that the wreck of steamer Alice M. Jacobs of this port, on a small island of Channel, had taken fire and burned to the water edge.

Provincetown Fishing Notes.

A large fleet of fishermen were forced into port Monday night by the threatening aspect of the weather among which were a few of the local fleet having on board small trips of fish being the catch of their first day's fishing. Schs. Sea Fox, Nellie Adams, Wm. A. Morse and Annie Perry landed their catch at O'Neil's wharf, the total catch of these trips comprising 35,000 pounds.

Sch. I. J. Merritt, Jr., landed 10,000 lbs. fresh fish at Rich's wharf on Wednesday.

A fleet of 30 to 40 fishermen were here Thursday morning, many of which are seeking bait.

The gasoline seine boat owned by Manuel Veara brought in a good trip of fresh fish on Friday of last week, the trip comprising 5800 pounds, of which 4900 pounds were large cod. The trip yielded a stock of $230.

The sloop Pearl brought in a fine trip of fresh fish Monday, which were landed at Cook's wharf, the trip comprised 8000 pounds.
